Mr. J. C. Collier,
Barnesville, Ga.

Dear Mr. Collier,

Edna was so well pleased with the Bloomers that you sent her Christmas that she carried them to the buyer of Caldwell-Hughes-Delay-Allen, one of the largest local firms, for their inspection. The buyer immediately carried them to the general manager for his inspection suggesting that they if possible add these to their stock. Mr. Hughes stated that they sold quite a good deal of this line of merchandise and would be glad to add these requesting that I write you for quotations either to me or direct to them, or should your out-put be sold to some jobber for distribution that I obtain the name and address of such jobber that they might add these to their stock should the prices suit.

Very sincerely,
BY Tom Wilson

P. S.

All of Mrs. Wilson's friends to whom they have been shown have expressed a desire to purchase some if they were obtainable in Tyler. It may be that you have created quite a market here for these Bloomers from the ones sent Mrs. Wilson. "She is some advertiser."

Tom
